

MITERS

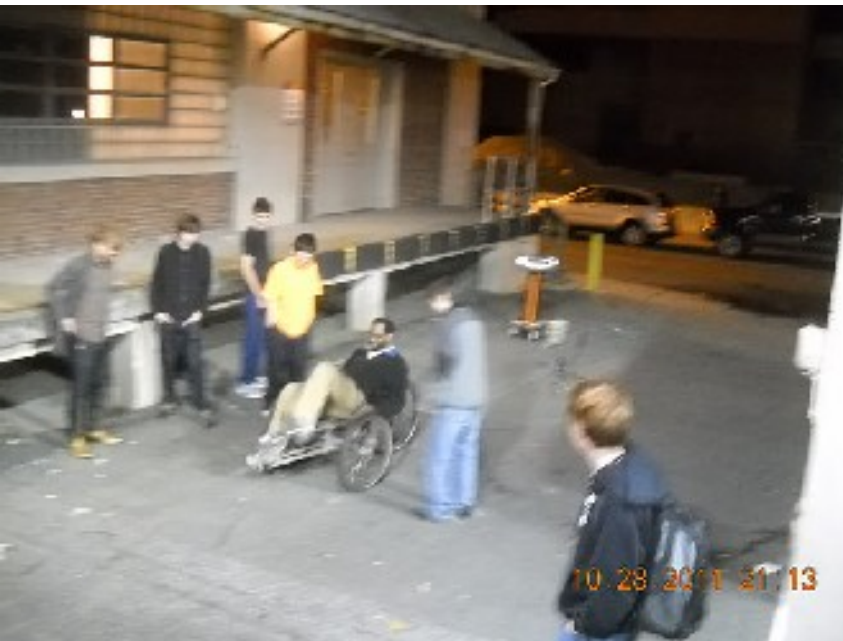

Err what

- MIT Electronics Research Society
- Founded: 1970s
- Originally founded as a club to give MIT students free and open access to computers
- a member-run creative haven and build-anything-you-want, if-you-break-it,-fix-it space.
- We're MIT's only student-run shop
- funded entirely through a portion of proceeds from Swapfest, the MIT Electronics Flea Market.

Our space outside

- <http://miters.mit.edu/contact/>

Our space inside

- <http://www.loneoceans.com/labs/panorama/>

Our tools, meche

Our tools, ee

Misc

faq

- About 20 active members
- Perhaps 50 or so over the semester
- Free
- Keyholders = students
- Open to public? Sort of
- Equipment, stock from old projects, lab/random donations
- makerships
- Build parties fridays 7 pm

Build parties

- Approximate density: no free sitting surfaces

General meetings

- About twice a term

phases

- Windsurfing > bikes > motors > electric vehicles > high voltage

atmosphere

- Intimidating?
- workshops

First workshops

- Next year: better organized

MITERS end of every term showcase (MEETERS)

